

The University of Limpopo is seeking to employ a suitable candidate in a permanent position as outlined below. The post is part of the Department of Higher Education and Training's New Generation of Academics Programme (nGAP); and all applicants must be South Africans who are 40 years or younger. The successful candidate shall enter into a contract that commits him/her to undertake at most six (6) years of supported academic development activities. Accordingly, applications are invited from suitably qualified candidates for appointment to the undermentioned post:

Lecturer: Animal Breeding and Genetics (nGAP)

Department of Agricultural Economics and Animal Production

Minimum requirements:

- A Master's degree in Animal Production with interest in Statistics or Biometrics in Animal production.
- Evidence of engagement in research and at least one publication.
- Must have at most one year teaching experience at a University or comparable institution.
- Demonstrable effective academic leadership will be an added advantage.
- Commitment to undertake PhD study within one year of the commencement of the position.

Responsibilities:

- Teach modules in Animal Breeding and Genetics at undergraduate and or postgraduate level.
- Undertake individual research or in collaboration with colleagues within or outside the Department.
- Perform any other duties/responsibilities that may be assigned by the Head of Department.
- Prepare and develop learning and assessment materials.
- Undertake community outreach activities as part of the University mandate.
- Supervise final year and honours student in the Department.

.....
Closing date: 23 June 2017

Typed applications which should contain comprehensive curriculum vitae, certified copies of all qualifications and contact details of three referees, should be forwarded, for the attention of Ms LS Ngoatje, to the Chief Human Resources Officer, Private Bag X 1106, Sovenga, 0727 or e-mail applications, in MS Word format, to stella.ngoatje@ul.ac.za.

Telephonic enquiries regarding conditions of service: (015) 268-3513.

It is the applicant's responsibility to have foreign obtained qualifications evaluated by the South African Qualification Authority. Please also note that failure to submit the requested documents/information will result in your application not being considered.

The University of Limpopo is an Equal Opportunity Employer. All appointments will be made in accordance with the University's Employment Equity Policy. Preference will be given to males (Coloureds and Indians) and females (Coloureds, Indians and Whites).

Correspondence will be limited to short-listed candidates only. Applicants who have not been contacted within 30 days of the closing date must consider their applications as unsuccessful.

The University reserves the right not to make an appointment.

