

staff profiles

PROFESSOR GERT PELSER

Professor in Business Administration

MSc Eng and MBA (Pretoria) and DBL (Unisa). He worked at Iscor, University of Pretoria, Atlas Aircraft Corporation and Massey-Ferguson. He was a Professor at Unisa in operations management and then Director of the School of Business Leadership. He has worked as a consultant in organisations involved in manufacturing, mining, retailing, consultancy, services, research and co-operatives. His fields of interest are operations management, project management and strategy implementation.

DR LOURENS BEYERS

Senior Lecturer in Business Administration

BAdmin (Hons) (Pretoria), BAdmin (Hons) Industrial Psychology) (Unisa), MBA Potchefstroom, M Phil (Stellenbosch), PhD (Potchefstroom). Beyers has worked as a human resource practitioner in the transport and manufacturing industries. He has consulted widely in the field of franchising. He has lectured at various tertiary institutions in South Africa. His particular fields of interest are strategic management, marketing, and information technology.

MS MAMOLOKO RANGONGO

Lecturer in Business Administration

MBA (North), MSc (Clinical Psychology) (Natal), BCur and BSc (Honours) (Psychology) Medunsa). Rangongo has extensive experience as a Clinical Psychologist both in the South African National Defence Force and in hospitals. She is lecturing at postgraduate level for clinical psychology students as well as MBA students, also at undergraduate level and in training and development for private candidates in both the business and public sectors. She specialises in principles of management, human resource management, and organisational behavior.

DR THERESA MOYO

Senior Lecturer in Development Management

Moyo holds the following degrees in Economics: BSc (Hons) and MPhil (Zimbabwe) and MA and PhD (Dalhousie). She has extensive teaching experience and has taught a wide range of courses which include micro and macro-economics, economic principles, monetary economics, trade and development theory, regional and local economic development. Her research interests include local economic development, trade and regional development and development finance.

staff profiles

PROFESSOR ANDRE DE VILLIERS

Professor in Development Management

BSc Agric (Free State), MSc Agric (Pretoria), MA (East Anglia) and DCom (Pretoria). He has worked as an agricultural economist and development economist with national government, economic adviser for the Lebowa government and development manager with the Lebowa Development Corporation. His academic career has been with the University of the North (now Limpopo) in Economics, Agricultural Economics and Development Studies. He specialises in development and regional economics, agricultural and rural development, project planning and management, financial management, and research methodology.

DR CHRIS BURMAN

Senior Lecturer in Development Management and Manager of the Development Facilitation and Training Institute .

BA Honours (East Anglia) and PhD (North). His PhD focused on community empowerment, and culture and change. He has steered DevFTI through numerous community empowerment projects, and consulted for the provincial government. His research interests include culture and development, community empowerment and global change, community empowerment and sustainable wellness, knowledge management for development, and innovation systems for development.

DR OLIVER MTAPURI

Senior Lecturer in Development Management.

PhD (KwaZulu Natal) and MBA (Zimbabwe) and an Associate of the Institute of Chartered Secretaries and Administrators of Zimbabwe. Mtapuri worked for 12 years in the Government of Zimbabwe and has five years under- and postgraduate teaching experience. He specialises in research methodology, statistics, accounting, financial management, and development planning.

DR GODSWILL MAKOMBE

Senior Lecturer in Development Management and consultant with the Limpopo Centre for Local Economic Development

BSc Agric and MPhil (Zimbabwe) MSc AgEcon, MBA, PhD. AgEcon and MSc Educ (Colorado State). Makombe has more than ten years of research experience on development issues in mainly sub-Saharan African countries. He has field experience in research in multidisciplinary teams. He has taught economics at the University of Zimbabwe and has been involved with project impact assessment, monitoring and evaluation.

staff profiles

MR MICHAEL MATAMELA

Lecturer in Public Administration

BAdmin (Zululand), BAdmin Hons (Venda), Diploma Financial Management (Damelin), MPA (Northeastern Boston), SEPSA (Harvard). Matamela is currently completing his PhD on Municipal Finance with the University of Pretoria. He specialises in public and municipal finance, policy analysis, local government and administration, conflict management and negotiations, labour relations, and health and safety.

DR PETRUS BOTHA

Consultant Senior Lecturer in Public Administration

BA, BA Honours and MA (Public Management) (Stellenbosch), PhD (Pretoria). He worked at Tshwane University of Technology as Senior Lecturer in Public Administration and Management. His fields of interest are in strategic human resource management, strategic thinking, management and planning, change management, research methodology, public policy-making, public decision-making, human resources management, organisational behaviour, and development and theory.

general inquiries

Turfloop Graduate School of Leadership University of Limpopo
PO Box 756 Fauna Park 0787 SOUTH AFRICA
Edupark Polokwane Limpopo Province SOUTH AFRICA

Professor A de Villiers (Director)
Telephone +27 (015) 290-2830 Email devilliersa@edupark.ac.za
Mrs MJ Strauch (School Administrator)
Telephone +27 (015) 290-2816/7 Email strauchm@edupark.ac.za

serving the education, training and research needs of government, business and civil society