

Mr MB Njoko

Mnqobi Njoko is the Programme Manager of MDEV at TGSL, University of Limpopo. He graduated with his Masters in Development Management at Ruhr University of Bochum, in Germany funded by Erasmus Mundus and the EU Commission.

His research focuses on Higher Education Access and Governance, Local Government, and Sustainability. He has supervised to completion over 20 Masters students and has published several journal articles.

Mnqobi Njoko is a Mail and Guardian 200 Young South African award recipient. He is the Founding Convener of the TGSL Global Leadership & Sustainability Symposium and Managing Editor of Leadership and Sustainability Dialogue, an academic journal launched as a symposium output.

He serves on several committees at the School and Faculty levels. He is a sought-after Programme Director, Facilitator, and Panellist within and outside the university.